Transplant stunner! Mom gives her legs to crippled daughter

What's for dinner? Worms and maggots!

Yum-yum!

By JACK ALEXANDER

Weirdo Welshman Dai Morgan would pass up a juicy steak any time for scrumptious mouthfuls of his favorite foods — slimy little worms and maggots.

And the burly, 310-pound rugby player doesn't mind if his meals are still alive when he sits down to eat.

"They wriggle when I cram them in, but they don't have a chance once I've chewed and crunched them up," said Morgan, 31.

Man hopes wacky diet will get him into record books

Dotty Dai didn't know what a tasty treat he was missing until he got bored during a rugby match in his hometown of Pyle, Wales.

"I picked up a worm and swallowed it," he said. "It was a bit earthy but went down real good. And I've been slurping worms ever since."

When Dai gets a craving for the creepy crawlers, his teammates and his girlfriend, Margaret, are willing to let him eat about.

His quirky quit smacked off the playing field one day when Dai started digging in the ground for a snack.

"I found a darn juicy one near the goal line," he said. "I prefer eating huge handfuls which you actually get your teeth into, but some of them escape by slithering down my chin."

The brawny bachelor's bizarre quests often include live maggots — pints and pints of the filthy creatures.

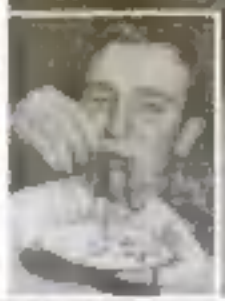
"I have trouble getting enough of them because other guys on the team are pretty keen on them, too," said Dai.

But the wacky Welshman aspires to a much higher goal where worms are concerned.

He dreams of being the world's champ worm eater.

"My main aim is to get the record for worm eating. I reckon I could eat 30 or 40 of 'em at a sitting," said Dai.

MAGGOTS like these are a gourmet treat for Morgan.



HEAVY bachelor Dai Morgan loves to chow down on a plate of wiggly worms.

Pit bull kills prize horse!

A pit bull was being held by animal control officers after a horse breeder claimed the dog had attacked and killed his 4-week-old prize filly — valued at $7,000 to $10,000!

The horrified breeder, Dick Schneible, said he found the filly, Sun Glow Maid, lying in the pasture near his home in Cocoa, Fla., with her nose chewed off.

Schneible said he spotted one of his neighbor's two pit bulls that was "solid red with blood." He took blood samples from the dead horse and the dog's hair to have them analyzed.

"If the blood samples match," Schneible said, "it's proof that the dog

Scientist's startling claim: The mother of the human race came from the stars!

IS THIS ADAM & EVE?

OVERPOWERING EVIDENCE: Dr. Bengt Nasland's discovery sheds new light on the origin of the human race. The famed anthropologist claims we are all descendants of a caveman father and a man from a distant planet. Below, an artist's sketch of Adam and Eve

By MENDY WEBER

A leading scientist claims to have found the remains of Adam and Eve — remains that prove Adam was a caveman and Eve was a beautiful space alien!

"The evidence is overpowering," Dr. Bengt Nasland told reporters in Malmo, Sweden. "A Neanderthal man and extraterrestrial woman were father and mother of the human race as we know it.

"We are all descendants of an inter-species union and can trace at least half of our genetic heritage to outer space."

The archaeologist's claim, though fantastic, is based on evidence unearthed during a five-year dig in the hills north of Bayburt, Turkey.

After decades of research he satisfied himself that the Garden of Eden had been located in the region. And the discovery of skeletal remains late last year convinced him that he had found it.

"Finding the probable site of Eden was quite a coup but it paled in comparison to the skeletons themselves," said the expert.

"They were less than 40 yards apart and were obviously covered up on the same land-slide that ripped Eden. But there were glaring differences in their structures.

"The male was Neanderthal, short and powerfully built with the high cheekbones and sloping forehead that characterized Neanderthals.

"But the female was unlike anything I've ever seen before. Her skull and bone structure tell me that she was long-legged and willowy, with delicate facial features and greater brain capacity than women have today.

"To say that she came from another planet requires very little imagination.

"This woman had some of the attributes that would have equipped her for survival on Earth at that time.

"There is no doubt that she was the product of evolution in a less hostile environment. All she had going for her was a mind."

Analysis of bones and organic matter taken from the site indicate that the Garden of Eden was destroyed by a huge landslide that occurred between 50,000 and 60,000 years ago.

That coincides with an unexplained leap in human intelligence and the emergence of modern man, two evolutionary steps that have never been adequately explained, he said.

"We can only conclude that a super-evolved Eve brought intelligence to the genetic pool and gave birth to modern man," said the expert.

"Naturally our study is only beginning. We must find out who or what Eve really was — and if possible, where she came from."

The mad slasher of Willard Street

By PETE COOKE

Cops quickly charged a neighbor with murder after receiving a call from a horrified mother who said she came home to find her son's body in his room and his head in the front yard.

Las Vegas authorities said 37-year-old Julius T. Lust was beaten to death with a claw hammer before his head was severed with a butcher knife and tossed on the front lawn of his Willard Street home.

Detectives arrested Bart Byrd, who lives in a cottage behind his mother's house next door to the victim, a claw hammer believed to be the murder weapon was found in Byrd's home and a butcher knife that was apparently used to cut off Lust's head was lying near the sidewalk, authorities said. The grisly case began when Lust's mother and sister came home and entered the house, not having noticed the victim's head in the front yard.

Once inside they found Lust's headless corpse on his blood-soaked bedroom floor.

Officers who rushed to the scene knocked at the door of Byrd's cottage and found the 39-year-old unemployed man lying in bed, his face and clothes covered with blood.

Byrd was booked for murder with bail set at $1 million.

"Police have interviewed him," said prosecutor Ron Blackam. "He made a statement implicating himself in the murder."

"Lust and Bart Byrd were friends," said homicide Lt. Kyle Edwards. "I can't divulge the contents of Byrd's statement, but obviously there are questions about his mental state. The judge has ordered him to undergo psychiatric examinations."

SUSPECT Bart Byrd is accused of beating his friend to death, then cutting off his head.

Circus chimps damaged their owner's home to the tune of $17,000 after one of them snapped his chain — and let the others out of their cages.

Maurice Willitt of the Willitt-Cottgeb Circus in Antwerp, Belgium, said the animals piled through the open back door of his 15-room mansion and:

- Shredded four leather sofas.
- Pulled six chandeliers from the ceiling while swinging on them.
- Flooded the kitchen and dining room after ringing the sink with dishes and towels.
- Broke a dozen windows.
- Drank or broke 45 bottles of whiskey.

$2 million lottery jackpot makes friends unfriendly

By RAFE KLINGER

The 20 members of the Dietary Lotto Club were thrilled when one of their tickets hit a $2.8 million jackpot — until they learned that one of the members didn't want to divvy up the pot evenly.

Norma Brumm, treasurer of the club made up of kitchen workers at Cottage Hospital in Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., thinks only 14 of the members should share the winnings because six members never kicked in the $1 apiece to buy the batch of tickets that included the winner.

Some members say Miss Brumm's stance has broken the close bonds of friendship among the members who work with each other every day.

"It's kinda tense, all of us working here together," says Debbie Grzywalski, one of the six members Miss Brumm wants to exclude. "We were very close. We were best friends. I'm very upset."

Amazingly, only Norma Brumm wants to exclude the six members from collecting a share. The other 19 have hired lawyer Mark Granzotto, who went to court to divide the jackpot 20 ways.

"It's very sad," said Granzotto. "It's no indication of what money can do. She's all by herself and not on a limb."

If the jackpot was split 20 ways, each member would collect $3,800 a year for 20 years after taxes. If only 14 share the win as Miss Brumm wants, they would get about $7,000 per year. Miss Brumm's argument states that the winning ticket came from a special purchase of tickets. Normally, the club chipped in to buy tickets for Wednesday night lotteries. Miss Brumm decided to make a special purchase of a Saturday night drawing and was only able to collect ticket money from 18 members and herself.

"She said six people didn't pay and they shouldn't collect," said Miss Grzywalski.

Mom's legs transplanted onto crippled teen

By MIGHTY WEEKS

A 45-year-old mother has given her daughter the ultimate gift — donor legs to replace those that the younger woman lost in an auto accident last year!

"It's the first leg transplant that I know of and it appears to be a success," Dr. Ricardo Valgues told reporters in Neuquen, Argentina.

"Both mother and daughter are recovering from surgery on schedule. Barring complications, the daughter should gain about 60 percent use of her new legs within a year."

The patients were not identified in news reports but they did issue statements through Dr. Valgues. The daughter who is 17, said she has mixed emotions about taking such a precious gift from her mother.

Mother begs docs to do the operation — 'She has her whole life before her'

The mother herself said she gladly would have given up anything — including her kidneys, liver or heart to help her daughter lead a normal life.

"I've lived 45 years with two good legs but my daughter has her whole life before her," said the woman. "I couldn't bear the thought of her in a wheelchair with go-cart stumps for legs.

"I know people think I'm crazy, but I was determined to do this for my daughter."

Initially it didn't look like she would be able to. According to newspapers, a half dozen surgeons rejected her proposal to donate her legs before Dr. Valgues agreed to perform the operation.

Even then, it almost didn't come to pass. Early tests indicated that the mother's and daughter's tissues did not match. As it turned out, a lab technician had mixed up their samples with those of another patient. In fact, their tissues were a perfect match.

They are expected to remain in the hospital for at least three weeks before they begin therapy on an outpatient basis, Dr. Valgues said.

"As a surgeon I feel lucky to have had a part in all this because it is a medical first," he said. "But I'm also proud to have been involved in such a humane act. The love that this woman showed for her daughter is a shining example of what makes us better than the animals."

My car is possessed by Satan!

By RAFE KLINGER

Michael Gardner has been haunted by death and misfortune at every turn since he bought a demonic car that was cursed with the mark of Satan.

Even an exorcism ritual performed by the Rev. Desmond Probets failed to drive off the horrifying bad luck linked to the car.

Incredibly, Father Probets was felled by a massive heart attack shortly after attempting to lift the curse by pouring holy water on the car and offering prayers.

And in the months following, poor Gardner lost his business and his wife and children.

The nightmare plague of death and misfortune began within days after Gardner, a sporting goods shop owner from Manchester, England, bought the Opel Senator. Gardner didn't notice that his shiny new auto carried the mark of the devil — its license plate number was "666VVR."

The number 666 is thought to be the sign of Satan.

"I only had the car a week when I looked out my bedroom window in Cologne, West Germany, and saw a man being stabbed by some youths," said Gardner. "My car trunk was covered in blood.

"Just after that, my car was smashed by a hit-and-run driver, then I collided with a dog, it damaged the front of the car — but not the '666' number." Gardner later drove to visit his father's grave.

He was shocked when he discovered that the headstone had been turned upside down. It was the only case of its kind reported by cemetery officials.

A little while later, Father Probets noticed Gardner's license tag number and told him of the book of Revelation in the Bible which reads: "Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast. For his number is six hundred, three score and six."

Gardner and Probets performed a ritual on the car, splashing holy water on the hood and chanting a series of prayers.

But the curse struck back. The holy man from Timperley suffered a heart attack after he tried to help.

Then months later, Gardner's sporting goods business went under.

Then the financially-wrecked man was forced to sell his large home and it was after that the worst came.

"The strain told on my wife Pat," he sighed. "She left, taking our sons Tony, 11, and Chris, 8."

And finally, the financing company came and repossessed the cursed car.

DEMON car owner Michael Gardner has had nothing but bad luck since the day he bought the possessed automobile. Even an exorcism by a priest failed to break the run of misfortune.

"HE GOT WHAT HE DESERVED" says Wilhelmina Leha of her husband's prize parrot.

FED UP FATSO BARBECUES HER BIGMOUTH BIRD

By LAUREL BOWIE

Wide-bodied Wilhelmina Leha did a slow burn every time her husband's prize parrot Picasso called her Fatso or Willi the Whale.

But it was Picasso who burned the night whopping Wilhelmina got sick of his ways — and barbecued the bigmouthed bird for dinner!

"That gassy parrot got just what he deserved," the tubed-lard lady told reporters in Brussels, Belgium.

"He'll never make fat jokes and call me names again.

"I made sure of that!"

The tale of the arrogant parrot's demise came to light when hapless-mate hubby Adolf Leha, 33, filed suit for divorce, claiming he could never again live with the woman who'd picnicked on Picasso.

"I really loved that little guy and she knew it," said the sad-eyed stockworker.

"Sure, he gave Willi a lot of guff. She'd waddle into the room and he'd scream 'El ya, Fatso' or 'It's Willi the Whale.'

"Sometimes he'd cry 'Shake the floor, Baby.' Heck, she weighs 280 pounds.

"When a woman weighs 280 pounds, she's gonna get laughed at."

But Adolf's spotty animal says she never got used to being razzed by a ratty parrot.

"My husband made fun of me when he was home and as soon as he'd leave, that rotten little bird of his would take over," the heavyweight housewife told the court.

"I really grew to hate that mouthy mess of feathers. My husband never talked to me anymore. When he wanted company around the house, he'd sit and talk to his precious bird."

But smarty-pants Picasso laughed his last the night Adolf went bowling with the boys and left Wilhelmina home with a bare cupboard and an empty fridge.

"I was sitting there starving to death and that parrot was in full yakkety-yak, telling me how fat I was," the blubbery belle recalled.

"Suddenly I just said so long, Picasso. I reached in his cage, wring his neck, plucked him and put him on the grill. He was delicious!"

That sassy parrot had it comin', fumes the hefty housewife

Cooper's suicide attempts have occurred during the past year in London, Liverpool, Southampton, Torquay, Exeter, Macclesfield and Lowestoft, England.

He swam out into the icy Irish Sea in his latest attempt. A cop suffered hypothermia trying to rescue him from the freezing water.

Police earlier had stopped him from leaping off the roof of a hospital.

Cooper, 25, was admitted to a psychiatric hospital and later released. Now police don't know where he is.

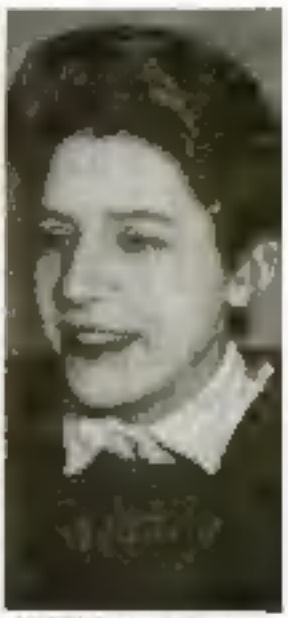
RESCUE workers frantically dig through the snow after two girls were buried by avalanche

Miracle on a mountain



LUCKY Stephanie Bourassa miraculously survived the icy ordeal that killed her friend.

SURVIVOR Stephanie Bourassa was still breathing when rescuers dug her out from beneath six feet of snow.

By SUSAN JAMIESON

Two tobogganing teenagers were trapped under tons of snow when they swerved onto a forbidden slope and were buried by an avalanche.

But crews of fast-working volunteers managed to find the two 13-year-old girls 20 minutes after they disappeared beneath 6 feet of snow — and one of the victims miraculously survived the icy ordeal.

Teen survives after she's buried under tons of snow

The two youngsters — Stephanie Bourassa and Josee Lupien of Trois-Rivieres in Quebec, Canada — were on a field trip with a group of girl guides when the tragic mishap occurred. They had asked permission to toboggan on private land and were refused. Ignoring their counselors, they climbed the slope anyway and the loosely packed snow crashed down on them.

Horrified troop leaders saw the mishap and sent runners to a nearby village for help.

"The accident happened at 5.30 p.m. and by 6 p.m. people from the village were there and the police were, too," said girl guide leader Maryse Blais.

"After about 45 minutes, one searcher shoved a stick into a drift and suddenly his cry rang out:

"'Come on, it's right here! Here they are!'"

Digging desperately, the volunteers finally uncovered Josee. She was motionless and did not appear to be breathing.

Beneath Josee's body was the toboggan and underneath that lay little Stephanie. Miraculously, the girl was alive, unconscious but still gasping for air.

Both girls were rushed by ambulance to a hospital. Attempts to revive Josee failed. Stephanie regained consciousness late that night, and aside from shock and a case of pneumonia, she suffered no lasting injury from the ordeal.

This is what my unique vitamin formula has done for my hair at 50...

Why not find out what it can do for yours...by accepting the first full month's supply of it, FREE, plus 2 other FREE GIFTS for you!

You See, If You Have Problem Hair, Read This—At 30, I Have To Cut 3 Inches Off My Hair Every Two Months. Otherwise, It Might Very Well Grow Right Down Past My Waist.

And not only how I developed a special Hair Vitamin formula that helps make it that way, but I'd like to give you your first full month's supply as my free gift.

The full details are below.

I've included the absolutely unretouched photograph of me over here, taken when I was 50 years old. It may not be the most flattering photograph from every angle, so you could see almost every strand of hair that clearly.

Now I'd like you to look at this unretouched photograph very closely—so carefully that if you have a magnifying glass handy, use it for this. And ask yourself these three questions:

1. Is my hair the shiniest, most stunning hair you've ever seen on a 50-year-old woman? Especially a 50-year-old woman who is now two years on the program that she should avoid—like the plague?

2. Does this hair have the kind of shine, the kind of sheen, the kind of life and strength you'd like your own hair to have today—no matter what your age?

3. And now study the length of this hair. Realize that it would grow down past my waist, if I didn't cut the ends off it every two months. For hair grows 12—one inch each month. It's the kind of growth, because they don't have hair to grow their hair this kind of vitality. And if you're willing to spend one short minute—at the most—to see if the vitamins can help your hair look like mine . . . grow like mine . . . shine like mine . . . please do just that you can, then you do not have to send your health and your hair, the absolutely proper nutrition it should have—then you owe it to yourself to find out.

And To Prove The Power Of These Facts, I Have To Tell You Just A Little More About My Own Hair Right Now . . .

First of all, because of the photographic equipment, I have long my hair exactly it makes long. And it's not as thick and as strong than I can hardly force a rubber through it. And it has so much life and shine that, when I did a TV commercial for a leading hair conditioner, the producer asked one of the men to lightly pat their pomade on it, so it wouldn't blow the camera.

Second, and even more important, even at my beauty is my business. I sell my way I look as a model and as a beauty expert. And as I myself grow older and older, more and more women begin to believe the essential message—that one can help make yourself beautiful, and keep yourself beautiful despite any number of years! And you can do that despite the fact that you're so much "in the red"—whether in housewife clothes, or working clothes, or all three—that you don't have even to give yourself the "Real Estate" splurge appeal like your city to have, every month this.

Nowhere, has products done the "Make-Over Miracles" half more true than with your hair. For you must realize that I have kept a track record about for over 30 years—that I touch about and color my hair—that I shave don't stop one other day, for a proper shave or leave—and my hair STILL looks like that.

Or Let Me Put It As Bluntly As This—

It took me 20 years to find out how to make my hair thicker, stronger, and therefore longer. With each shearing, the vast shine that we men can't keep its hands off it. And I'd like to share my Number One Secret with you—now that Number One Secret is not, without your risking a penny.

What I learned can be boiled down as simply as this. I found that the best "Make-Over" Hair Treatment in the world—far better than anything I could concoct—was the best—in the proper blend of vitamins and minerals. For one very simple reason.

That no matter how much money I spend for a shampoo or conditioner or cholesterol or over $20 per hair . . . no matter how many vitamins, or hormones, or enzymes, or other preparations or other minerals I may have—my hair still can't digest. Only my stomach can. And therefore the only way I can feed my hair what it really need is through the mouth.

WORLD'S HOTTEST GOSSIP

I'VE FOUND A NEW GIRL!

SAD, THEN AGAIN: Despite losing his lovely companion Carrie Leigh, "Playboy" boss Hugh Hefner explained the heartbreak. Weeks later, he's happily in love again.

Surprise! Surprise! Instead of moping in a dark bedroom because his best gal had run off, Playboy kingpin Hugh Hefner is happy again — having "miraculously" found a new girl to love.

Yup, somehow in that huge rambling California mansion — stuffed like a Thanksgiving turkey with bevies of scantily-clad beauties — Hef has managed to find romance.

And her name is Kimberley Conrad.

"I can't believe how all of this has worked out," gushed Hef as he gazed at the long-limbed blonde bombshell.

"Out of nowhere, to have this angel arrive and change everything."

There's no doubt that Dame Fortune has since taken a shine to poor dumpedthe Hef. Just two months ago, the horny bunny of three years, Carrie Leigh, escaped from the lap of luxury and smacked the Caliph of Centerfoldsville with a $25 million palimony suit. Carrie charged that Hef tricked out of promises to wed her and make her big with child.

It certainly was a low point in the life of the 71-year-old prince of pussycat. But despite being surrounded by more chicks than there are at a bee house, Hef managed to find a Kimberley to love.

"It's so beautiful," sighed Hef. "How lucky can a guy get?"

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

"The important opportunities we most often miss out on . . . are those we fail to explore, and let pass us by."

Dear Friend,

Please answer the following simple question. WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME SOMEONE OFFERED YOU A GOLDEN BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY? If you're like most people, you probably answered this question with a frustrating "never". It is no secret that throughout our lives the amount of times opportunity knocks on our door is by far to few, and a business opportunity may only knock out once in a lifetime. For this reason I feel this advertisement may contain some of the most valuable information you will ever read. You see, at this very moment you are being offered an opportunity — a business opportunity. I sincerely hope that upon your reading of this outstanding business opportunity you will take the time to thoroughly think through the offer being presented, and ponder both the risks and expectancies of such an opportunity. Please remember, even though this business opportunity highlights both simplicity and super potential, it is not a promise. Like any business the amount of success achieved greatly depends on your hard work and desire.

ALLOW ME TO INTRODUCE MYSELF AND MY BUSINESS

My name is Kevin Cameron. I'm a energetic entrepreneur who has made it my business to give you an easy money to earn your own business. Let me explain. Quite some time ago I realized that I could never be happy working for someone else. Even though I was employed by an established company and moving my way slowly up the ladder, I was never satisfied. I love to work hard but desperately wanted my hard work to benefit myself and not some boss out on the golf course. Making the decision to go into business for myself, I began to search for an opportunity. Through many hours and dollars of research I found was that a sound business opportunity complying with my list of criteria was next to impossible to find. Frustrated, I began to wonder how many other people were in the same boat that I was in. Seeing the need, I began the lengthy process of researching and developing an outstanding business opportunity meeting a list of very serious criteria. I'm proud to say, through long hard work that task has been accomplished. The end result is a business opportunity made for people like yourself. Because there are two roads to the future not just one. The same old worn and crowded road most people follow, or the alternate road filled with new challenges and rich rewards awaiting the opportunist.

HAVE YOU ACHIEVED THE LIFESTYLE AND THE SUCCESS YOU DESIRE OUT OF YOUR LIFE?

Sad but true, most people never do. For most the American dream of business ownership, high income success, and an upper class life-style, remains just that — a dream. I strongly feel that for most people the American dream can become a reality just as easily as it can remain a dream. This is due to the fact that I also feel most people possess a willingness to work extremely hard to achieve their own self-fulfillment and desires. In fact, I think many people work harder at their jobs than do the owners of the companies they work for. (Think about that.) If they were putting that hardwork into their own business I think the results would surprise them. In my opinion most people, probably yourself included, get caught up in a day to day routine which narrows one's view of their own horizon. We've all heard the expression "expand your horizon", but few ever do. Have you ever said to yourself, "I'm just waiting for the right opportunity to come along"? Well an opportunity has come along. And although I can't guarantee you the American dream or that this is the exact opportunity you've been waiting for, can you afford to pass up the chance to find out if this is your once in a lifetime opportunity? Let me tell you more about this amazing business opportunity.

THIS IS IN NO WAY, SHAPE, OR FORM A GET RICH QUICK GIMMICK!

I think most of us at one time or another have been lured in by those get rich quick ads promising success and great wealth virtually overnight. And if you're like me, I'm embarrassed to say you've been lured in more than once. In my opinion through experience the hard way) you have been made to believe that by sending an hour pay week we can obtain more wealth and success than ever dreamed possible, we should be both cautious and skeptical. Because although these offers appear to be a dream come true we must keep this thought in mind, if you or I knew the secret of making millions of dollars overnight. What I do know is there are a great number of people who for various reasons, possess a genuine desire to own their own business. And if your one of these adventuresome individuals who want more out of life than the rate race, this may be the sound business opportunity you've been looking for.

LETS GET DOWN TO BUSINESS

As I mentioned earlier, before this business opportunity was researched and developed there was first established a complete list of criteria or requirements.

The following is that list of criteria.

- LOW START UP COST
- EASY TO OPERATE
- HIGH INCOME POTENTIAL
- LONG TERM BUSINESS WITH GREAT GROWTH POTENTIAL
- A BUSINESS WITH DEMAND
- A BUSINESS WORTH BEING PROUD OF OWNING

Here is how your business measures up to that list.

- LOW START UP COST
  Have about $100.00 laying around? There is no more than to take or building to buy. No inventory. heavy equipment, special vehicles, or computers to purchase. All you need is yourself! (The four hundred dollars covers enclosures I can only tell you about your purchasing the manual detailing the business opportunity.)

- EASY TO OPERATE:
  There are no special skills needed and no special education required. You can be male or female, young or old. There is no manual labor, getting dirty, traveling or ten hour work days. I'm sure you will eventually want to employ people to help with your growing operation but to begin with all you need is yourself.

- HIGH INCOME POTENTIAL:
  Since your business will have [redacted] potential it would be impossible for me to give you an exact dollar amount. I can tell you that an average yearly income of $75,000.00 is a very realistic estimate. Remember a major determinant of how much your business will earn is how much you want it to earn.

- LONG TERM BUSINESS WITH GREAT GROWTH POTENTIAL:
  This is not a short lived business. It is not a one shot deal or a business based on a passing fad. This is a long term career business. And although I can't go into great detail in this advertisement, let me assure you that the size and speed at which your business can grow places it in a class by itself.

- A BUSINESS WITH DEMAND:
  In my opinion demand is an understatement. Let's just say it is a fact that this business has been in demand since you or I can remember and will be in demand after you and I are gone. And just as important, along with the demand comes practically a unlimited market.

- A BUSINESS WORTH BEING PROUD OF OWNING:
  This is not a scheme or fly by night business. It is not illegal or unethical in any way. This is a business that can grow and prosper with your own ideas and efforts. And don't be surprised if your friends and relatives call you a genius, because your business has been right in front of their eyes for quite a long time, they just never noticed.

As you can see, the opportunity is truly amazing in every aspect. Does it sound to good to be true? Well believe me it is that good and it is true. I'm sorry, but at this time I cannot release anymore details about this business opportunity. To find out more you must purchase the complete step by step how to manual I've written, which explains in detail this amazing business opportunity.

DON'T PROCRASTINATE:

What is an opportunity such as this one worth to you? The price of the manual is $8.00. That is all it will cost you to make what may be the most self-rewarding purchase of your life. Of course your SATISFACTION IS GUARANTEED with the option of returning the manual for a full refund if the business opportunity is not everything I've said it to be. As I said if that makes you have absolutely nothing to lose and everything to gain! How could an offer be made better than that? I would like to thank you for taking your valuable time to read this advertisement, and I would also like to leave you with this thought . . . The only limits we have in anything we do, are those limits we choose to put on ourselves.

Parents keep son captive 14 years!

Oscar Navarro's parents thought he was too interested in wine, women and tobacco — so they locked him away for 14 years to keep him out of trouble.

The Santa Rosa, Uruguay, man — now 33 — was finally rescued from a dingy storeroom in his parents' home after neighbors reported to police that he'd been missing for some time. He had hair to his waist and a long beard and nails. He had not heard human speech for the entire time of his imprisonment, police say.

"The parents apparently feared Oscar's wild ways would corrupt his younger brother," said a police official involved in the Navarro case. "Navarro suffered terribly and will need extensive rehabilitation before he can resume normal life.

"The shocking plight of this man has horrified the entire community.

"At this point it is too early to know whether he has suffered lasting damage."

According to police in the small town near Montevideo, an investigation was opened in the Navarro household began after neighbors reported Oscar missing. Police visited the Navarro home and asked to interview Oscar but were told he no longer lived at home.

Cops then searched the Navarro house and discovered a storeroom with its door chained shut.

"We asked the parents to open the door but they refused," the police spokesman said. "They told us the room was full of household furnishings and odds and ends.

"After we insisted, they finally unlocked the chain and opened the door. I have never seen such a terrible sight in that room and its occupant."

Inside police found Oscar cowering on a filthy mattress. The room where he lived was totally closed and dark, without a window or any form of ventilation, police say. It had a primitive toilet, but no light fixtures.

Oscar appeared weak, but when were in that condition he could not speak. The parents told police they had fed their son once a day but that they never spoke to him.

The young man was taken to a hospital where he is undergoing medical and psychological testing.

"He is now talking and has told us that his parents put him in his cell when he was 19 because he wanted to date a girl they disapproved of," the police spokesman said.

"He said his parents had caught him drinking and smoking and were convinced that he would teach his younger brother to do the same.

"At first, they told him they'd free him when his brother was grown, but years later they had changed their minds. They were afraid Oscar would go to authorities."

Navarro's parents have been arrested and charged with child abuse.

Bank bandit wrote holdup note on his paycheck, say stunned cops

By JOE GRIMM

The bungling bandit who stuck up a Bloomfield, N.J., bank wasn't tough to identify, cops say — because he wrote his holdup note on his own paycheck stub.

Factory worker Kevin Thompson, 29, was charged with stealing about $1,000 after handing a teller a crumpled note that read:

"This is a stickup. Keep clam [sic] I have a gun give me some $100, $20 & $5 keep clam and no one will get harm. Thank you."

Investigators said the note was on the back of a check stub with Thompson's name on it.

But defense lawyer Lawrence Lorberg says his client had nothing to do with the robbery and has no idea how his check stub wound up in the bank. "How stupid would a guy have to be?" Lorberg asked. "This guy isn't that stupid.

"And he's too well-educated to write a note like that. He just didn't do it."

Police dog canned — because she is too kind to crooks!

By JOE BERGIA

Compassionate Portia the police dog has been stripped of her stripes and kicked off the force — because the lovable mutt is just too kind to crooks!

Peaceable Portia — named for the Shakespearean heroine who preached mercy in The Merchant of Venice — was a whiz at sniffing down rapists and robbers and dragging them to the ground.

But there are times when a top patrol canine cop will have to bite somebody — and this sweet-as-pooch doggedly refused to sink her fangs into even the most evil-looking villain.

"Portia would get three hours down like she was trained to do but instead of biting them she'd start licking them in the face," said fellow policeman Stephen Scott of London's Metropolitan Police Department.

"Sometimes it would get downright embarrassing the way she treated these creeps like they were long-lost friends.

"There's just something about her that makes her not want to hurt anybody. Officers have attacked me and hit me with sticks to get her to bite but it didn't work.

"She got angry but she wouldn't bite and I always ended up black and blue," said Officer Scott. So the gentle German shepherd was yanked off her beat in London's dog-eat-dog East End and shipped home with her tail between her legs to live baby-sit Scott's three little boys. "She heads the kids around on her back and lets them haul up on her all they want," the patrolman said. "That's what makes her happy. The children take her on a beat around the garden and that's enough for Portia."

PEACEKEEPER Portia has been kicked off the police force and Officer Stephen Scott is sad to see her go

"People just don't believe it when I'm on my own with my kids," the 44-year-old supermom said. "I must admit it does a lot straight to me.

Doctors perform a medical miracle!

Woman, 83, is pregnant after womb transplant

In its second headline-making medical accomplishment in months, a team of obstetricians has succeeded in making an 83-year-old woman pregnant — by giving her a womb transplant!

By BEATRICE DEXTER

The controversial procedure, the work of fertility specialist Dr. Christian Knutsen and colleagues in Norway, follows their successful use of fertility drugs to bring about pregnancy in a 70-year-old woman last year.

The most recent mother-to-be is carrying a fetus for her granddaughter, who cannot have children because of a genetic condition. The womb was transferred from her pregnant granddaughter to the unidentified woman in an effort to spare the life of the fetus, Knutsen said.

"The womb donor has never had a child and very much wanted this one," Dr. Knutsen told a meeting of gynecologists and obstetricians in Iceland February. "Her own mother is deceased and she has no sisters, so the grandmother was the only person who could carry the baby for her.

"We've successfully transplanted the womb and its ligaments and the pregnancy is progressing normally.

"The mother-to-be is taking daily doses of anti-rejection drugs and hormones to maintain a healthy environment for the fetus."

In a speech before a group of obstetricians and gynecologists Dr. Knutsen described the incredible achievement in detail.

The world-renowned physician said he was contacted by the 33-year-old granddaughter after she had been told she must abort her pregnancy because her health would not permit her to safely carry her baby to term.

The woman had heard of a case in South Africa in which a grandmother had acted as a surrogate mother and asked if it would be possible in her case.

"There will a great many problems, of course, but the woman's grandmother was in excellent health and I was soon convinced that she could carry a fetus," Dr. Knutsen said. "The idea of a womb transplant was totally new, but it seemed the safest way to transfer the developing fetus without harming it.

"The womb was kept well-supplied with blood throughout the procedure and functioned normally from the moment it was connected up at the new site. The mother-to-be is now recovering nicely from the surgery and we expect her to be up and around in a matter of days."

She is a surrogate mom for her own grandchild

Knutsen's work with elderly patients has caused an uproar in Norway, where opponents of the doctor's history-making advances have stirred up an ethical debate. A number of experts oppose pregnancies among the elderly as unnatural and dangerous to the mother.

"But I deal with individual cases, and in this case I have no qualms about allowing my elderly patient to undergo a pregnancy," he argued. "That's what my patient wanted, that's what her granddaughter wanted. They accepted the risks."

The baby is due in August. Dr. Knutsen said. Tests have indicated it is a boy and in good health.

Heartless cop does his duty

A teenager was lying on a stretcher in a hospital after being struck by a car while crossing the street — and a cop gave her a jaywalking ticket.

Medical tests showed the girl suffered neck injuries and cuts and bruises when the car hit her while she was crossing at the corner of Fourth and Main.

But she said in understated words she got the $54 ticket because she thought they would let her go and avoid the paperwork at the hospital, he said.

He murdered their kids and tried to bash her brains out, but . . .

Forgiving wife takes her killer hubby back

Crazed killer Vittorio Vissotto slaughtered his three little girls by bashing their brains out with an electric iron, then tried to murder his wife Valeria.

But easygoing Valeria says her hotheaded hubby isn't really such a bad guy — and she's welcomed him back into her home like nothing ever happened!

"I love my husband and I want him with me, where he belongs," the pleasant lady told reporters the day her baby-killer mate was released from a loony rap in Milan, Italy.

"When I took my marriage vows I said it was for better or worse. Now we just want to turn our backs on the past."

But astonished cops fear Valeria, 38, may be making a grave mistake.

"I don't know what's going on in her head," said chief homicide detective Gianni Antonelli. "The man flipped out and beat those three little girls to death like an animal. Then he tried to do the same thing to her."

The crazy man's quiet life exploded in horror four years ago when she returned from visiting a neighbor and found the battered bodies of her daughters — Elena, 8, Cinzia, 6, and Valentina, 4 — organized in the front room of their tiny home.

As Valeria stood at the door in shock, her enraged mate charged out of a closet with a bloody iron in his hand and smashed it into her skull.

But the blow glanced off and before Vissotto could strike again, she ran screaming into the street and collapsed in the arms of a passing policeman.

The former army officer was ruled insane after psychiatrists testified a lapse of hormone balance drove him mad.

And normally, following months of pleading by the woman he tried to kill, Vissotto was released from a mental hospital — and went home to the arms of the housewife.

"I am just happy to have my man back, no matter what he's done," the delighted wife told reporters.

"I know he didn't mean to hurt the girls. He loved them and he loves me.

"We're going to forget the past and start all over again."

Show-off kills little girl with rattler

A little girl died of a poisonous snake bite after a hotshot cowboy draped his deadly pet rattler around her tiny neck.

Stevie LaRan Kirkwood, 2, died of respiratory and circulatory failure several hours after a Great Basin rattlesnake dug its fangs in her shoulder.

Originally charged with murder and later convicted of manslaughter in her bizarre death was machoman cowboy Darrell Wessendorf, 20, of St. George, Utah, pal awaiting sentencing.

Testimony at the cowboy's trial revealed he had been scaring the tot's mother, Jeri Ann Kirkwood, and neighbors with the snake before hanging it around Stevie's neck.

Mrs. Kirkwood said Wessendorf kissed the snake and stuck it down his pants to show how brave he was. Wessendorf, who rented a room from her, then put the snake on Stevie.

"Get that damn snake off my daughter," Mrs. Kirkwood testified.

She said she threatened to shoot him if he didn't.

An instant later, she said, Wessendorf was prying the snake's fangs out of the daughter's shoulder. He cut the wound and sucked out some of the poison.

Then he shoved the child at Mrs. Kirkwood and yelled obscenities.

"I've already taken care of her," she quoted Wessendorf as saying. "She'll be all right."

When the frantic mom and a friend, Wildie Kelton, got in a truck to take the child to a hospital, the rugged cowpoke beat up Kelton "and strong-armed me," Mrs. Kirkwood testified.

The baby didn't get hospital emergency treatment for 45 minutes in an hour after being bitten because Wessendorf detained her from 30 to 35 minutes, the distraught mother testified.

Wessendorf said he had been around poisonous snakes most of his life and was trying to show the little girl the rattler was tame.

"I don't know what upset the snake," he said.

"When I turned back he was stretched pretty good. I hooked my fingers in its mouth and gave the snake to Kelton."

Judge Philip Eves ruled the cowboy was guilty of manslaughter but not second-degree murder.

"There is certainly no question the defendant caused the death of [illegible]," said Eves.

"I find that he did create a grave risk of death."

Wessendorf could be sentenced from one to 15 years in prison.

Mrs. Kirkwood said, "Nothing they do to him will bring my baby back."

Shot 5 times, teen crawls ½-mile to get help for friend

By JACK ALEXANDER

A courageous college kid miraculously staggered nearly a half-mile to a police station — after a robber pumped five slugs into his body.

"I could see the blood coming from where one bullet had entered my head. I thought it was the end," said Charles Peterson, a student at Loyola University of Chicago.

Peterson, 18, and co-worker Jose Arriaga, 20, were shot execution-style and left for dead when two gunmen robbed a plant parker of $600.

"They wanted us both to lie on the floor," said the gutsy student. "My friend was on the floor like they wanted. But I didn't want to die like that. I saw the other guy give the shots to Arriaga. I first thought they were blanks. It seemed so unreal."

The other gunman began firing at Peterson as he knelt beside a locker.

"I put my arms around my head — anything I could do to keep from getting shot," he said. "As the bullets hit me, I fell to the floor. I looked pretty dead."

After the bandits left, Peterson struggled to his feet and staggered several blocks to a police station for help.

Arriaga was reported in critical condition at a Chicago hospital with a bullet in his head. Peterson is in fair condition. He was shot in the head, twice in the left arm, once in the right arm and once in the leg.

He miraculously survived the brutal ordeal because the bullet entered near his left ear and exited through his forehead without penetrating his skull.

Suspects Charles Cobbs Jr., and Eli Walker, were arrested Saturday in connection with the robbery and charged with robbery and attempted murder.

Bond for each suspect was set at $100,000.

"Everyone in the store guessed it was Sarah's boyfriend because we all knew about their spat.

"The plane just missed the roof of the Prince of Wales Hotel and the next thing, there was the sound of an explosion."

An RAF spokesman said the 20-year-old trainee would never have been allowed to fly if it had been known he was suffering any kind of emotional strain.

"We got his pilot's license before he had a driver's license," his grieving mom, Margaret, said. "He lived for flying and had been up in trainers on his own many times before.

"He and Sarah had been together for two years.

"They had a tiff, but I don't think that had anything to do with the crash."

Snail blows up in diner's face

Gal's birthday party turns into a real blast

By ALEX JACKSON

A surprise party at a plush restaurant turned into a real blast for birthday girl Karen Pressly — when a snail exploded on her face.

Mrs. Pressly, 36, was burned and temporarily blinded by the bizarre explosion as she took her second bite of escargot at Parrale's Restaurant in Syracuse, N.Y.

The snail was probably blown apart by the pressure of steam building up in an air pocket of the plate's bubbling escargot, said restaurant owner Charles Parrale.

"I immediately broke down crying," said Mrs. Pressly, who was hustled around the table so her husband could take her right eye and wouldn't see her. About 30 minutes after the freak accident.

She was taken to Upstate Medical Hospital for emergency treatment and later released.

Parrale volunteered to pay her medical costs and for damages to her white dinner dress. He invited her back to the restaurant for a free dinner.

Mrs. Pressly plans to accept Parrale's generous offer to dine free, but probably will order something besides escargot from the menu.

"I'm not enraged but I will probably be hesitant to order it again," she said. "I didn't realize it could explode in my face."

YOU NEED NEVER BE ALONE...LOVING SPIRIT BEINGS EXIST TO PROTECT & GUIDE YOUR LIFE IN ALL MATTERS

IN A SHORT WHILE YOU WILL BE ABLE TO...

CHANNEL YOUR OWN HIDDEN POWERS!

Dear Friend:

You've probably heard a famous actress talking about the mystical guidance given to "channelers". Or maybe you've read or heard the words of such enlightened thinkers as Seth, Lazaris, and Ramtha who speak from invisible realms said to exist all around us. In fact, astonishing numbers have even taken place on primetime television and spiritual growth.

As an investigator of the paranormal and author of over 100 metaphysical books, I am prepared to state you personally how to get started raising your own consciousness to allow "higher intelligences" to come through, thus enabling you to communicate with spirit beings who can make you in standing all you desire on this the physical plane of life, plus protect you from all negativity and harm.

Over the years, I have come to accept as fact the idea that the universe is literally teeming with life unseen. Countless of our invited the screen, most of us are unaware of this or communicate with. Yet, I can guarantee that by the time you have finished reading AQUARIAN REVELATIONS: CHANNELING HIGHER INTELLIGENCE, you will have all an harmony convergence with the source from we call God. There are, I've discovered, three basic types of beings who we may actually call upon in times of personal need.

HELP FROM THE ANGELIC KINGDOM

In Genesis the Lord created the angelic kingdom to watch over humankind. In the Bible, angels guided the colony Hunts lost in the wilderness, freed the persecuted from fiery furnaces and cave prisons. Jesus Himself was met by angels, delivered by angels, strengthened by angels. We are repeatedly told that angels are secret beings, that they are God's personal messengers, and not just symbols. And while most of us take for granted that angels exist, interested with the prophets, the saints, as well as early members of the Christian faith, few realize that the angelic kingdom is still very much active today and that those beings of pure light and love are at our beck and call whenever we need them the most.

MEETING YOUR SPIRIT GUIDE

Likewise, there exist other multidimensional beings who can— and frequently have— materialized to aid beginning during periods of crises or in moments of receptivity to advanced teachings.

These beings can take on the form of perceived spirit guides, master teachers, or loved ones who have passed on. Frequently, they appear in our dreams or in visions. Such disembodied arrival on these often have our best interest at heart, and upon being spoken to can direct our lives in a most positive manner. They have been known to show the way to buried treasures, missing wills, or other items of importance. They have even whispered the winning lottery numbers into the ears of deserving souls and saved many unsuspecting lives when almost sure death or injury.

LOVE, PEACE & BROTHERHOOD FROM BEYOND THE STARS

In the late 1940's, strange objects which defied science and which became known as UFOs or flying saucers, were first seen by thousands around the world. Today, the reality of alien visitors is widely accepted, some going so far as to claim repeated physical and telepathic contact with more advanced civilizations from outside our earthly reality. Whether aliens are from Andromeda, and there are those who say that advanced spiritual beings — behind the Easter Triangle — are watching over and guiding us on spiritual path to global meditation. Offering humankind a way of salvation. Those highly developed souls have also been known to heal the sick, walk in garments, bring them into the lives of those who have had close encounters with them.

A HOW-TO METAPHYSICAL COURSE THAT ACTUALLY WORKS!

During my years of personal involvement with metaphysics, I've learned many things which have changed my life, and which I am now ready to share with you. I will teach you how to tune with your "Inner Ear" to attune that our loving guardian angels, spirit guides and space brother friends are so willing to give.

I will probably scare you up so that you will become more "in tune," more "receptive," more "sensitive" to psychic and Godly influences. I will show you how to become your own "Channel" so that you can be a radio receiver for divine inspiration and speak directly to your "Higher Self" like Edgar Cayce and so many other great sensitives since Biblical times.

I will say before you is simple words and forms this program distribute, meditations, charts and graphs that will elevate your mind.

- It will teach you how to...
- Tune in more
- Draw upon the energy of others in a beneficial way.
- Type negativity into a positive force.
- Develop sensitivity to all living things by way of the earth as above it.
- Train to become a master of the invisible or elementalness.
- Discover spiritual gems once you have obtained it.
- Use your dreams for problem solving.
- Grow in harmony with the great spiritual Earth Mother
- Journey to unseen worlds beyond space and time.
- Work in the light of eternal brotherhood.

Previously, I have taught these same vital arts to personal growth and spiritual development groups across the country, charging as much as $300 for a weekend seminar class, however, I feel it is important to communicate my inner most feelings directly with as many sincere individuals as possible as we rapidly approach a New Age of discovery on this planet. Thus, I hope you will join with me as I share these important secrets in an easy to follow step-by-step manner, in what I believe is going to be my most important book published to date. Reading AQUARIAN REVELATIONS: CHANNELING HIGHER INTELLIGENCE may just be the step to expand your horizons.

Yours in Love & Light,

Baby-sitter admits: I killed the father to save his son

Pit bull lives after shotgun's [redacted] blast

By LAUREL BOWIE

A tough little pit bull terrier was blasted in the head with a 12-gauge shotgun at point-blank range — and survived!

Canadian police said the dog was shot from a yard away when it attacked officers during a drug raid at a home in Hamilton, Ontario.

Vets later dug 27 lead pellets from the pooch's forehead.

"I don't know how that sucker ever got by that," said Sgt. Mac Haddie. "It should have blown his head right off." The 18-month-old dog is recovering at the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Shocked teen discovers chilling secret

Deep freeze horror

By PETE COOKE

Tow truck driver James Bailey was jailed on murder charges after curiosity got the best of his teenage daughter, who pried open the lock on a freezer chest and found the dismembered body of a prostitute inside!

Tampa, Fla., authorities said that after 14-year-old Diane Bailey made the gruesome discovery she called her 15-year-old brother, who said he'd found the frozen body 2½ years ago, but kept quiet about it.

The girl then phoned police who arrested Bailey, 45, for murder when he pulled up to the house with his girlfriend.

Medical officials who had to wait for the corpse to thaw before examining it, identified the dead woman from fingerprints as Kimberly Hanlon, who would have been 27 years old in 1985 when authorities believe she was murdered.

Tampa police Capt. Keith Linton said records show several prostitutes-related arrests of Miss Hanlon between 1979 and 1983.

"She was last seen by relatives in early 1984," Linton told The NEWS.

Linton said Bailey ordered all the members of his family to stay away from the locked freezer chest that he kept on a screened porch. But Bailey's teenage kids couldn't resist taking a peek inside.

James Jr., Bailey's 15-year-old son, discovered [illegible] dismembered body in [illegible] but said nothing.

He's said this on his mind all along. He never said anything to anybody," said Assistant State Atty. Louis Pittenger. "Currently [illegible] the kid. He looked in [illegible] and found out why he wasn't supposed to look in there."

Capt. Linton said Miss Hanlon's severed arms and legs were found in the freezer with the rest of her body.

Americans healthier but still feel awful

Americans have never been healthier, but they don't feel that way, says a new medical survey.

"The nation's collective health has improved dramatically over the past 30 years, yet people report increasingly high rates of disability and a general dissatisfaction with their health," said Dr Arthur J Barsky, a psychiatrist at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

In a New England Journal of Medicine article, Dr Barsky noted the life expectancy of a child born in 1984 was 78 years, compared to 47 years in 1900.

Surveys show people report twice as many episodes of disabling illness now than in the 1930s to the 1970s. 61 percent of Americans said they were satisfied with their health. Ten years later, the figure dropped to 55 percent.

"Our subjective feeling of healthiness and physical well-being has decreased, even though there have been major advances in our actual, objective health status," said Barsky.

Wife beaters get their licks

Some of the fun at Bunny men seem to end for battered wives in the Philippines — if a new law is passed banning wife beating. A husband who beats his wife twice within a year could face a year in prison and a $500 fine. The proposed law is being studied by the senate.

Live in Mexico on $14 a Day

One million Americans live in Mexico—more than any other place in the world. Why do so many Americans live in Mexico? Here's why.

• Living Costs—They are ridiculously low. Rent in many developments make Mexico one of the cheapest places to live in the entire world. Many Americans live comfortably on a small pension or social security.

• The climate—It's comfortable year round. And many parts of Mexico are unspoiled with beautiful, clean warm waters, green mountains and colorful flowers.

• Live in a community of other Americans. There are many retirement havens in Mexico - only a short distance from the U.S. - where Americans live comfortably on a minimal income.

The book, Living Easy in Mexico, describes American retirement communities throughout Mexico. It reveals all settlement havens. Inside, side villages nestled in the mountains, sleepy fishing villages alongside the ocean, and modern cities having a large community of Americans. The book tells you how to get to these settlement havens, the Americans living there, climate, cost of living, housing, recreation, schools, taxes, disadvantages, and which communities to avoid.

The book gives complete details on living in Mexico: health care, taxes, travel, customs, food and water, selecting a home, making extra money. The author spent 18 years living and traveling throughout Mexico. The book contains plenty of photographs so you can see the greatest value of these retirement havens. Whatever kind of retirement living you want, Mexico has something to offer you.

Living in Mexico is cheap. For about $14 a day each, two people can live in a spacious home, eat good food, have a maid, housekeeper and gardener, and still have money left over for entertainment or savings.

If you're fed up with high living costs, bad weather, congestion, pollution, too much stress and tension, consider Mexico as one of thousands of Americans are already doing.

Get all the facts. Order Living Easy in Mexico today. Send only $12.95 plus $1 postage and handling to: United Research Publishers, 103 North Highway 101, Dept. WLS, Encinitas, CA 92024. You can return the book within

Cops say [redacted] did the hatchet job

Rabies fear drives man to have his hand cut off

By JACK [redacted]XANDER

Cops say a teenage boy got in trouble with the law for chopping off his favorite uncle's [redacted] hand — because the uncle asked him to.

Vietnam vet James Veasey, 33, would have bled to death if other members of the family hadn't come home from church and rushed him to a hospital.

"Veasey thought he had rabies in his left hand because it hurt him all the time," said Memphis, Tenn., sheriff's inspector Buck Wood. "He kept muttering his 13-year-old nephew to back it off and stop the pain. Finally the boy gave in to his uncle and did it," said Wood.

The teen grabbed an axe while the couple placed his hand on a chopping block, said Wood.

"And he chopped it off just above the wrist," he said.

Veasey stuck his left stump into a bucket of peroxide mixed with water while the boy found the severed hand in a field.

Horrified family members found Veasey and his nephew sitting in the front yard when they returned from church.

"Fortunately they came home a few minutes after it happened or the uncle would surely have bled to death," said Wood.

The hand was retrieved from the field but surgeons couldn't reattach it. Veasey is still recuperating in a Memphis hospital.

His nephew was charged with mayhem and ordered to undergo psychiatric treatment.

THE 4-HOUR MARRIAGE

By JACK ALEXANDER

Two-timing bride tossed out on her ear — on the way to the honeymoon!

A starry-eyed bride and her beloved groom fought like a couple of angry alley cats before deciding to get a divorce — four hours after they got married.

"We were both in our wedding gear and I still had a flower in my buttonhole," said Julian Cue, who had ditched his bride during the brawl and left her sprawled beside a road. "She found another ride and I let her [illegible] the road," said Julian, 21, of Somerset, England. "Well, we didn't even have a wedding night, let alone a honeymoon."

Julian and his new wife, Sarah, 19, were headed for a hotel after getting married when the fight broke out.

"I stopped the car, dragged her out and we had one hell of a fight.

"I wound up and accidentally head-butted her — that's the truth — then I drove off. It must have been quite a sight for passersby.

"We were both in our wedding gear. I still had a flower in my lapel and her wedding bouquet was in the car. Our clothes got ripped and were filthy."

The hot-tempered groom roared away in their vintage Rolls-Royce, leaving the heart-sick bride to hitchhike home.

Julian finds it easier to talk about their fight-shortened wedding day now.

It happened several months ago. The couple have since become good friends while waiting for their divorce to be finalized.

"We never became lovers," said Julian. "We didn't have enough time."

Good news for migraine sufferers

There are a lot of myths about migraine headaches but you can get the facts — and help — from the National Headache Foundation.

According to the agency as many as 10 million Americans suffer from migraines, a whopping 70 percent of them women. It appears that migraines may be hereditary.

But the notion that there is such a thing as a migraine personality, which many people believe is unfounded, experts say.

Most say agree that emotional anger, anxiety and tension can cause onset of a migraine. And by learning to relax, sufferers may be able to reduce the severity of attacks.

Burglars go fishing for cash!

Clever burglars reeled in a big haul from several Louisville, Ky., banks — by fishing bags of loot out of night-deposit chutes.

Bank officials didn't even realize they'd been ripped off until customers told them their accounts hadn't been credited.

A hook and a length of fish line were found in one chute where the burglars apparently snagged a bag and broke the line, said Jefferson County Police spokesman Gary Fields. The burglars "either had a key or could pick the locks because there was no damage to the night-deposit doors or the chutes," said Fields. No arrests have been made.

Sore loser sues casino after dropping $3M but judge says . . .

By JACK ALEXANDER

Being played for a sucker is no excuse for not paying your gambling debts, a judge told a wealthy woman — who dropped $3 million on a blackjack binge.

High-rolling Toshi Van Bibber claimed two Nevada casinos lured her into dropping a bundle, knowing she wasn't smart enough to play the game.

But Federal Judge Bruce Thompson threw out her 1989 lawsuit against Harrah's Tahoe casino and ordered her to pay off $265,000 in losses, plus interest.

"Mere solicitation of her patronage is no ground for liability . . . nor is knowledge that Mrs. Van Bibber is a poor player," said Thompson.

"The gaming industry would cease to exist if it allowed only successful people to participate," he added.

The rich housewife from Sacramento, Calif., said the casinos wined and dined her with complimentary suites, fancy full-course dinners and lavish night-club shows. And not once did they suggest she learn how to play blackjack, she said.

Mrs. Van Bibber said employees at Harrah's and at Harvey's Casino eagerly cashed her checks and gave her the red carpet treatment.

Her four-year gambling spree began in 1985. Three years later she was dropping up to $200,000 in a single night. She lost $1 million in one two-week period.

But the high stakes bonanza for the casinos ended when Van Bibber's husband, Thomas, got fed up with his wife's gambling debts and filed for divorce.

"The judge's ruling tells casinos that they can't get away with taking advantage of people who are addicted to gambling," said Harrah's lawyer Robert Zimmerman.

It goes to show that somebody can't avoid their gambling debts by hiding behind some frivolous allegation."

A separate suit against Harvey's of Lake Tahoe is still pending for the luckless housewife.

THRILL years ago "The Mirror" told readers about Toshi's blackjack binge.

Nuclear war's no threat to ritzy shelter home

Couple plans to survive in style

If worst comes to worst, Robert Lee Hall and his wife Donna are ready.

In fact, in the event of a nuclear war the couple plans to survive in style.

The Halls' underground palace near Dover, Del., has been under construction for two years and may be the world's grandest three-bedroom bomb shelter.

"Something like that is one of a kind," said real estate appraiser John Womack. "It's built like Camp David. He'll have facilities just like the President. That's the closest thing you can compare it to."

Hall, a 56-year-old contractor who was forced into early retirement by back problems, started out to build himself a maintenance-free retirement home. "I tried to design a house that would take care of itself," he said.

The house is actually built at ground level and he had other a small mountain of dirt that will be landscaped later. Only a small entry tower shows above ground. The rest of dirt and four more inches of concrete. The concrete and steel walls are a foot thick and surrounded by 25 feet of earth.

The experts have told Hall that unless the house takes a direct hit from a nuclear bomb, he and his wife have nothing to worry about. And if there is a nuclear war, Hall says he plans to be prepared.

Handless man has a firm grip on life

By ROSE GRADY

Lineman Bob Ratliff's life could have come to a standstill after surgeons had to amputate his hands. Instead, he's living proof that when the going gets tough, the tough really do get going!

"I just more or less decided that was it," the gutsy, 60-year-old Oklahoma farmer said.

"I'd do the best I can and just go on from there."

Bob's hands were amputated after they were horribly burned by a high-voltage power line that had snapped in an ice storm that swept through much of the state.

Bob and his brothers got Herb Orvell were trying to restore power to a blacked-out neighborhood in Catoosa. The two men were working from an elevated hydraulic bucket

Bob apparently slipped in the bucket and inadvertently reached out for support. Tragically, what he grabbed was a hot wire that carried 4,800 volts of electricity.

"By all rights, he should be dead," said Herb, the man Bob credits with saving his life. "He's just a tough 60-year-old with the heart of a lion."

It was Herb's cool head and speedy action that no doubt saved Bob Ratliff's life. When he saw what had happened, he instinctively slapped the wire from Bob's hands.

He called to Wanda on the ground to lower the bucket and call for an ambulance as he held his unconscious friend in one hand and pounded his chest with the other.

"I came to in the ambulance and saw them cutting my gloves off," Bob told The NEWS. "I could see every bone in my fingers where the wire had burned them. I knew right then that I wasn't going to have my hands. But I'm doing OK. For a crippled what's happened I just made up my mind to go on and try to do what I can do. I'll be getting artificial hands. I don't think I'll have any trouble learning how to use them. No trouble at all."

Kid, 2, steals mom's car

Two-year-old Aaron Wasson got a black eye but he's lucky to be alive after taking a joyride in his mother's car!

Valerie Wasson said she left the boy in her 1979 Cadillac with the motor running while she dashed into a fast-food restaurant to look for her other kids.

The woman from Grand Haven, Mich. said she got back just in time to see Aaron driving away.

The car traveled about 20 feet, narrowly missing another vehicle before it crashed into a motel. The force of the impact sent Aaron to the Caddy's floorboards.

Damage to the car was about $1,000 which the boy will work off in chores when he's old enough, Mrs. Wasson said.

Big booze budget

The Scots are a hard act to follow when it comes to boozing and smoking, according to a new survey in Britain.

Figures reveal the average Scot spends $464 a year on alcoholic drinks compared to a national average of $470.

Scots also shell out an average of $278 on smokes compared to $236 by residents in northern England, said the government's Central Statistical Office.

The alcoholic consumption of the northern Irish was a third below that of the Scots.

New York mom's heartbreaking close encounters

A space alien made me pregnant — then stole my baby!

CHRISTINE FLORENZ

Incredible account has been clearly proven, expert says

By MINDY WEBER

A saucer-eyed space alien got a New York woman pregnant and then returned to kidnap her baby in two of the most bizarre close encounters on record!

That's the word from Temple University expert David Jacobs, who says 30-year-old Christine Florenz's mind-boggling experiences have been confirmed in interviews conducted under hypnosis.

"Her experiences couldn't be a hoax because we gathered new information when she was in a deep hypnotic trance," said Jacobs.

"There is no way she is lying. Over the past 20 years we have studied over 300 cases of alien abductions and we are certain the extraterrestrials are here."

Miss Florenz knows that all too well — and wishes she didn't. She says 3-foot aliens plucked her from the backseat of her mother's car in 1981 and used strange medical instruments to impregnate her aboard their spaceship.

"It all started when I was making a car trip with my mother and sister," said Miss Florenz. "Eventually we arrived at our destination three hours overdue, yet there was no way we could account for the lost time.

"I was very worried and went to see a doctor who suggested he should hypnotize me to help work out what was wrong.

"When he played back the tape of our session I was terrified to learn that I had been taken away in a giant silver spaceship and subjected to horrible sexual acts.

"But the real horror didn't hit until I found out I was pregnant. I had actually been made pregnant by an alien I was going to have an alien's baby."

An alien, she said, that had huge black eyes and only three fingers on each hand.

"They had a human form but were only 3½ feet tall with slightly larger than average heads, huge black eyes and small pointed noses," she continued.

"All they had for genitals were tiny slits. And they didn't have mouths, ears or hair. As I was lying there watching the Cheap I was completely ... They seemed to be controlling all by themselves with their minds.

"One of them put a strange metal contraption on my arm and leg. Then they started prodding me all over with strange instruments and I passed out."

When Miss Florenz awoke, she was back in her car with her mother and sister — some of their pants that physical extraordinary had happened.

Two months later Miss Florenz learned that she was pregnant and decided to have an abortion. But during at the abortion clinic told her she wasn't pregnant at all.

The doctors who diagnosed her pregnancy earlier were baffled, she added.

"They insisted that I had been pregnant but they couldn't explain what happened to my baby," she said, although it's all but obvious that the aliens who got her pregnant returned for the unborn child.

Tragically for Miss Florenz, the alien fetus' ultimate fate is not — and they never be — known.

Newspaper gets a jump on tomorrow

One of the world's leading newspapers printed the wrong date on its front page, fooling thousands of people who rushed to meet deadlines and make appointments — 24 hours early!

Pensioners lined up at post offices for their monthly checks — which weren't there — and one man even showed up early for a dental appointment after London's Daily Telegraph hit the stands with "Thursday" in heavy black type on Wednesday's edition.

"Most readers were puzzled and confused," said switchboard operator Rita Alberman. "But some were very annoyed and upset, particularly those who had traveled all over the place thinking it was Thursday — and got where they were going before they found out it wasn't."

On Thursday — the real Thursday — the newspaper printed an apology.

Lucky wrong number rings wedding bells for oldsters

By SUSAN HANSON

Lonely widower David Turner got a wrong number when he made a phone call last fall — and ended up with the right woman.

He accidentally called Bertie Edwards, 83, whom he hadn't seen for 40 years. The two got to talking and soon they fell in love. Now they're married and as happy as two lovebirds.

"I was afraid and shaky," Bertie told The NEWS from her home in Somerset, Ky. "Now he's here and I'm fine."

"We just fit together like a good pair. Mostly we just keep each other company."

Turner, 68, lost his first wife nine years ago. The retired farmer has 18 kids and as many grandkids and great-grandkids that he'd lost count. But he was still pretty lonesome without his mate.

He says that he perked up the phone and tried to call a friend. Bertie answered and the line struck up a conversation.

"I realized I knew him a years ago when he said his wife and me went to the ... used to go to the same church," she recalled. "We just talked, and one subject brought on another. We were lonesome so we just kept talking."

The sweethearts finally realized they would be better off living the marriage kept them tying up the phone lines by talking.

On February 17 they were married in a quiet ceremony. Turner is the seventh child of Bertie, an ordinary circle. The couple honeymooned at Turner's trailer there next to Bertie's house in Ky.

"We're so happy to be with her," gushed Bertie.

NEVER TOO LATE — Bertie and David Turner find the heat when they were in their 60s, bringing new happiness to their lives.

Rookie cop goofs up — he busts gal for smoking hay

By DICK DONOVAN

It sure looked like marijuana. By golly, it even smelled like marijuana. But after a rookie cop busted dumbfounded Kelli Kilgore, he learned too late that it wasn't marijuana — it was alfalfa!

The poor newcomer to the three-man Algona (Wash.) P.D. was so embarrassed his boss, Chief Richard Reader, mercifully declined to identify him.

But long-armed hand-cuffed and hauled off to the slammer while friends noticed on word all that thrilling for 20-year-old Kelli Kilgore.

She said she for sure wants a formal apology and she's thinking that maybe a lot of compensation wouldn't be out of line.

The nameless rookie spotted the bag hours after he grabbed Kelli's hairdresser and saw the number of what he thought was marijuana. Later, when he learned some of it was smoked like marijuana they are in the States," he told The NEWS. "That's an area that I'm not free to discuss."

Although authorities quizzed against holding an inquest into Patton's death, the Ontario AIDS advisory committee has been asked to come up with recommendations on whether doctors with AIDS should perform surgery.

And the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons will study whether surgeons with AIDS have a moral or ethical duty to tell patients about their affliction.

— DOUG GRANT

Kelli tried to explain that the number wasn't marijuana, but the rookie left in her car where she discovered a bale of alfalfa as a friend who owns several horses.

Well, Chief Reader finally made the revealing test that should have been made earlier and, sure enough, the forbidden crop in Kelli's car wasn't pot.

MEDICAL SHOCKER: Doc with AIDS kept on cuttin'

A horrifying coroner's report has revealed that Canadian surgeon Christopher Patton operated on at least 700 unsuspecting patients — while he was dying of AIDS!

Ontario Deputy Chief Coroner James Young said Dr. Patton died of AIDS-related encephalitis, an infection of the lining of the brain that brought on symptoms that included loss of memory and confusion.

The shocking report is the result of a coroner's investigation that began in early February, after Dr. Young confirmed that Patton had died of AIDS.

The report said the 46-year-old unmarried surgeon had been suffering from AIDS since 1985, though how Patton acquired the disease isn't known or isn't being made public.

Dr. Young declined to comment on whether or not Patton was gay.

Here's how to keep loverboy from getting roving eyes

BEAUTIFUL woman like model Sandra Gluck is easy to land a man — the trick is keeping him.

By RAFE KLINGER

Gals who want to hang on to their guys better forget about keeping the house tidy or whipping up yummy dinners.

The key to keeping a man coming back for more is to keep yourself looking like a glamor-gal, says a top European fashion model. No man wants to come home to a gal if she looks like a scrubwoman.

"I just make a point of looking after my best assets. It's like an insurance policy.

"Take care of yourself — and he will take care of you," advises the beauty who has dated many of the world's most eligible bachelors.

Here are her other tips for keeping a man from straying:

● Flattery is the best policy. Make a fuss over your guy by picking out his good points and praising him on them.

Even if your man's a fat chimp, he's got to have some attractive features.

"It might be his hair, his body or his eyes. Tell him he looks great."

● Never chew your nails. Guys may not mention your nails, but they notice them. And the one thing no man likes is a feminine hand with chewed up fingernails. And no matter how you're getting on tidy up your nails, do the same for your toenails.

● Watch your language. Guys like gals who look like ladies and ACT like ladies. You might think you're cool letting out a curse word or two, but your man will think you've got no class.

● Makeup is fine, but the Tammy Faye Bakker look is a no-no. Men want to see the real woman.

● If you're single, don't start giving your guy "baby talk." Telling him how much you like kids and how you'd love to have a family of your own is likely to give your man running feet. Trapping a man into marriage is fine, but making him feel trapped by talking about kids and family is bound to make him start noticing other gals.

No man wants to come home to a gal if she looks like a scrubwoman

● Never tell your man about your past conquests. No guy wants to be part of a long line, especially when it concerns his lady. He wants you to look good to other guys, but he doesn't want to know that he's the last in a long line to hold your hand.

● Be sexy, but don't be a tramp. Low-cut gowns are okay for actresses playing blonde bombshells, but is not the way for a lady to dress.

Showing a little bit of cleavage or a little bit of leg is great for sparking a guy's imagination. But showing him all the goodies in the store is a definite NO.

● Keep him laughing. A good sense of humor is more attractive in a woman than a thigh-high slit in a skirt. Being funny will relax him and make him want to be around you. And don't forget to laugh at his jokes, too.

● Don't be obvious — even with your special guy. No man likes a woman who overflirts in public. It makes her look cheap and desperate. You can make your guy know you're interested by giving him quick, meaningful looks and standing or sitting close enough to him that your arms or knees touch.

But throwing your arms around your guy and hanging on to him like a wet shirt is a no-no.

Gift of love's tragic ending!

By SUSAN JAMISON

Sixteen years ago Vicki Brown gave away one of her kidneys to save her sister's life. Now her remaining kidney is failing.

But the Huntington, Ind., woman, who made national headlines with her story, says she has never regretted her kidney donation, even if it means her own life is now in danger.

"My sister only lived three years after I gave her a kidney, but I'm still glad I did it," Vicki, 47, told The NEWS. "I gave her those three years. It was the gift to her."

Vicki, a grandmother of three, used to work as a pastry cook for the University of Indiana. But her kidney trouble has forced her to quit her job so she can get special treatments three times a week to clean her blood of chemical impurities.

When she donated her kidney to her sister Pam Deel in 1972, doctors assured her that she'd be able to live a normal life, Vicki said. She felt fine until last July, when she was stricken with a condition called chronic glomerulonephritis. The ailment, which destroys the kidneys' ability to filter toxic chemicals from the blood, was the same one her sister had suffered from.

"Now I'm on dialysis three times a week," said Vicki. "It's an adjustment. I have to build my life around it because without the day-long dialysis procedure I couldn't survive.

"I have good days and bad days, so I take things one day at a time."

Vicki's doctors are hoping to give her a chance to lead a normal life by finding a donor kidney for her. But Vicki says she won't be asking anyone in her family to do it. She's afraid they may end up like her, stricken by the same disease that she and her sister suffered from.

"But if they found another donor, I'd take a kidney," she said.

Doctors say that the chances of a person developing kidney trouble after donating one of their kidneys are extremely remote.

"There's about a one in 10,000 chance of that happening to a kidney donor," said Dr. Richard Crosbie, director of the Huntington Memorial Dialysis Center.

"No doctor would have predicted what would happen to Vicki."

Dr. Crosbie said when testing an organ donor, doctors are very thorough — "almost overprotective."

A late-night phone call could bring surprising news — and a reason to rejoice.

A young person in your life needs more attention.

If your birthday is this week . . .

You're in for a thrill of a year ahead. New faces and places dominate as your social life is decidedly on the upswing. The opposite sex seems to find you extraordinarily attractive as the year progresses. If married you'll have to be careful not to make your spouse jealous!

Loosen up a bit this week, Aquarian, and try not to be so aloof. You may find that life is more exciting if you go with the flow and have fun.

Let your imagination run wild as it comes to planning a much-needed vacation. An exotic trip or perhaps a week away from it all alone may be what the doctor ordered.

Set realistic goals for yourself and a deadline for reaching them. Your life may be in disarray now because you've set unreachable goals — or none at all.

PISCES

Feb. 19-Mar. 20

Be realistic and more responsible in dealing with personal problems. Don't let fair-weather friends get in the way of ambitions.

You are unselfish to a fault because you're a Pisces, but people often take advantage of you because of it. Maybe you should be a bit tougher.

A whole lot of fun may be heading your way this week. Tread in all those personal and business matters you've been putting off, as you'll be ready to enjoy it.

Nurse's goof blows patient up like a balloon

By PETE COOKE

A woman recovering from lung surgery was nearly killed when a nurse accidentally hooked the hose of a suction machine up to the exhaust pipe and blew the patient up like a balloon!

Attorneys for 53-year-old Juanita Johns of Jacksonville, Fla., said the unfortunate woman underwent surgery at University Hospital to have a malignant tumor removed from her lung.

"After surgery, because of the anesthetic, gas develops in the intestines and a suction device must be used to relieve the pressure," said Wayne Alford, one of Mrs. Johns' lawyers.

"The device is supposed to provide a low level of suction through a tube that is inserted in the nose, down the esophagus into the stomach."

But Alford said the private duty nurse caring for Mrs. Johns goofed and hooked the tube up to the exhaust outlet of the suction machine.

"When the nurse tried to attach the tube to the machine the wrong way, the exhaust blew the tube off on the nurse taped it on," Alford said.

It wasn't long before Mrs. Johns knew something was wrong.

"She realized there was a problem with the procedure when her stomach started blowing up like a balloon," said Alford.

"She suffered extreme pain. At that point she ripped the thing out of her nose and put it on her stomach and a doctor later said this ultimately saved her life."

The air pumped into her blew a hole in Mrs. Johns' intestines and she had to undergo surgery two more times to repair the damage.

"She was in the hospital for two months and then spent two months flat on her back at home," Alford said.

Mrs. Johns filed a malpractice suit and recently accepted $600,000 in an out-of-court settlement.

While Mrs. Johns has recovered and is "doing pretty well," she still has a disfiguring scar on her stomach and continues to develop intestinal problems, according to attorney Alford.

VICTIM Juanita Johns.

Cops put sting on fugitives by posing as exterminators

By RAFE ELDRIDGE

Clever cops pulled a super harebrain and nabbed 26 fugitives by posing as bug exterminators to gain entry into homes.

Sheriff Frank Herbert of Augusta, Maine, explained how the sting worked.

He said that his disguised deputies got inside houses by saying they would give free bug inspections.

"One kid . . . had been ordered sent to jail on 1968. We went to his mother's house at 6 a.m. and told her that her son had entered her name in a drawing and that she had won free extermination services," said the sheriff. "She took us into his room and we arrested him right in his bed."

Sheriff Herbert said previously fooled fugitives by having his men dress as cable TV crew members.

outcome on others and are often sought out for advice.

YOUR FUTURE: You're going to have to speak up this year, Rabbit, if you expect to get what you want. Stay cautious in business or financial dealings and you will do well.

Your home life won't be at its best for a while but if you are open about your feelings, problems will be resolved. When you are under stress, remember to take care of your health. A program of exercise and a healthy diet should keep you shipshape.

Dragon

YOUR TRAITS: Your fiery personality brings you triumph and trouble, Dragon. You are a head worker with tons of energy and not very much patience. Intelligent and lively, your tremendous self-confidence can lead you to scorn the advice of others and act impulsively.

You call things as you see them and your views are valued by others. You like to be in the limelight and you're usually there, with many admirers.

YOUR FUTURE: This is your year, Dragon, and you're going to enjoy it. You'll achieve some of your most important goals, including a major advance in your work.

At home, things will be busy, possibly with a new addition to the family.

Snake

YOUR TRAITS: Snakes slither through life pretty effortlessly because their intelligence makes things easy for them. They prefer quiet and tend to be slow to take others into their confidence.

Highly energetic, snakes make excellent workers but they can also be ruthless and slow to recover from failure. They enjoy challenges and change jobs and interests often. They are witty and good looking.

YOUR FUTURE: The love-doves tattoo on you, Snake, is that the year of the Dragon will be quiet. Career moves will be called for among working Snakes, and you'll probably encounter lots of new ideas.

Horse

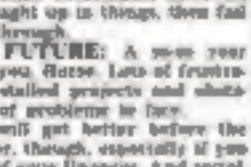
YOUR TRAITS: You've got a quick temper and a tendency to be self-centered, but that doesn't keep you from having friends. In fact, you are extremely popular for your charm, your quick wit and great talents.

You have many interests and you follow up on them, traveling, exploring new things and adapting easily to new situations. Sometimes, however, you get caught up in things, then fail to follow through.

YOUR FUTURE: A new year ahead for you, Horse. Lots of frustration over stalled projects and obstacles. Lots of problems to face.

Things will get better before the year is over, though, especially if you take care of your finances. And socially, things will be great.

Goat



YOUR TRAITS: You like high living and luxuries, but you also enjoy the simple beauties of nature. You are highly artistic, a real perfectionist who acts with strength when you must. You'll get your own way with charm and winning ways and you are often the center of attention among friends.

Goats are conservative folks who like to be part of the team and leave decisions to others. You can be reluctant to share your feelings but you love your family and devote a lot of time to them.

have a lot in store ahead in the coming year because Dragon years are great for them. Difficulties at home will be cleared up, social life will be terrific and work will progress well.

Improvements in your home — or even moving into a new home — seem likely. But keep close tabs on your finances.

Dog

YOUR TRAITS: You are quick witted and alert and an excellent judge of people. But you can also be moody, stubborn and hard to please.

People admire you for your honesty and they trust you. Even though you're sometimes short-tempered, you are a loving parent and a helpful friend.

YOUR FUTURE: This will be a year that requires all your dog smarts to keep ahead of events. You'll face constant last-minute change, frustrating obstacles and lack of support.

Still, you'll be able to achieve a lot by using your dogged determination to reach your goals.

Pig

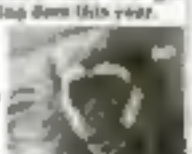
YOUR TRAITS: You're a straight-shooter, Pig. You have generosity, which is why people enjoy your company. You are honest, kind, understanding, and can be trusted to help when help is needed.

It's hard for you to say "no," though, and you can be taken advantage of. You can be a spendthrift, too. You're a creature of comfort who shuns large gatherings for small get-togethers with friends and loved ones.

YOUR FUTURE: Don't hide your light under a bushel basket this year, Pig, because the Dragon year is a time when you need to assert yourself. By getting others to notice you, you will improve your fortunes and meet others who can help you later on.

Watch your health and this should be a very good, very tranquil year for

Monkey



YOUR TRAITS: You are ultimately clever, creative and curious and a lifetime of learning has made you an excellent source of advice for others. You are persuasive in discussion and a great problem solver.

Because you are so bright, you are easily bored and have a tendency to become distracted. What's more, your natural craftiness and cunning can lead to occasional dishonesty.

YOUR FUTURE: It'll be a happy year for you — provided you keep your Monkey curiosity under control. Don't meddle in the affairs of others and don't get involved in matters that have nothing to do with you.

You will be much in demand socially. Remember to watch your health during hectic times. Don't rush meals.

Rooster

YOUR TRAITS: You're the cock of the walk, a flamboyant person who loves positions of authority and has a great deal of self-confidence. Take care that you don't get carried away, though. You have a tendency to rush ahead with things that with careful thinking you would probably not do at all.

Others love you for your dignity and colorful personality.

The Royal Road To Riches

Dear Friend,

My name is John Wright. Not too long ago I was flat broke. I was $11,000 in debt. The bank repossessed my old furniture. I couldn't keep up with the payments. And one day the landlord gave me an eviction notice because I hadn't paid my rent in three months. So we had to move out. My family and I moved in my cousin's place for the rest of that month before I could manage to get another apartment. That was very embarrassing.

Things have changed now. I own four homes in downtown Clarkston. The one I'm living in now is in Beverly Hills (a more exclusive one million dollars). I own [illegible] also, among these a [illegible] and limousine, and a limited new Cadillac. Right now, I have a $1 million dollar line of credit with the banks and have complete access to $[illegible] each in my bank in Beverly Hills.

Any of us, I have more to never him. I'm not. I'm the when I work three 4 hours a day, the rest of the day. I do whatever I please. Sound nice? I am answering and calling — everyone. Listen then, I also responded to every. Sometimes, frankly, I just do not enjoy my job with a good heart. I have to take long vacations. I just got back from a two week vacation in Maui, Hawaii.

If I'm not really trying to impress and rub my wealth, but I'm trying to be here is to prove to you that it wasn't because of some secret power I was lucky enough to find one day. I just wanted have more time to be with my family. It was only through the amazing secret I'm about to reveal to you that I was able to accomplish all of this. Without this secret, I would have been just as poor as you're probably. It was only through the amazing secret that I could quit my 9 to 5 job and become wealthy. Discovering almost this secret changed my life completely. It brought me wealth, happiness, and more importantly of all — peace of mind. This secret will change your life, too! It will give you everything you need and will solve all your money problems. Of course you don't have to take my word for it. You can try it for yourself. Why, you may ask, am I willing to share this secret with you? To make money? Hardly. First, I already have all the money and possessions I'll ever need.
